It is reported by Mayor P. A. Thatcher that mumps are spreading in the city and as there is no quarantine for this disease, the city physician is anxious that parents be careful and do everything to avoid the spread of the disease. If symptoms of mumps are noticed it is the duty of the parents to do all they possibly can to keep the child from mingling with other children.

Mr. A. E. Lloyd and family are here from Soda Springs, Idaho, where Mr. Lloyd is engaged in the raising of pure bred livestock. He is proprietor of the Piney Ridge ranch on which he is producing cattle, hogs, sheep and chickens. It is needless to say that Archie is doing well. He is a little modest about saying that himself.

Nut and Raisin Sandwiches
Take equal quantities of nuts and raisins; chop, moisten with grape juice and spread between slices of whole wheat or graham bread.

Might at Least Do That.
"What 'oo want, chicky?" asked a two-year-old girl in the country for the first time interpreting the chicken's cackling as an appeal for something. "Oo want a drink?" The cackling continued. "Oo want my grampa?" More cackling. "Aw," said the disgusted little girl, "please shut up!"

Looked Like Business.
Father—"Jane, are that young man's intentions serious?" Daughter—"I think so, pa; he says our carriage shed could be easily transformed into a garage and the attic would make a dandy billiard room and bowling alley."

SUCCESSFUL ROUND-UP

the legislature for an amendment to the state stallion law which will make it more effective. James Devine of Salt Lake City opened a discussion on this subject in which he declared that the law was almost a dead letter, and that this was because there was no proper means of enforcement. He said he believed it ought to be made the duty of the county sheriffs to enforce this law.

Other Comments Made

Professor John T. Caine, III, State Senator W. S. Hansen of Collinston and Dr. H. J. Frederick, the college veterinarian, also commented upon the law. Professor Caine said he believed the appointment of a committee as suggested by Mr. Devine was a good thing, but added that much good had already been accomplished with the present and the old laws. Dr. Frederick declared that if there were stallion owners who were disobeying the law, it was the fault of the farmers, because they had not reported the cases to the state board of which Dr. Frederick is a member. He said that not a single complaint had come to the board and that whenever complaints did come they would be investigated and acted upon.

A committee consisting of J. R. Allen of Draper, James Devine of Salt Lake and Thomas Smith of Logan, was appointed to urge the proper amendment of the present stallion law before the next legislature. State Senator W. S. Hansen pledged his support and assistance to the committee.

J. R. Allen of Draper gave some interesting instructions on the Raising of Draft Horses. Mr. Allen is a successful horseman and also a prominent sheepman. During the course of his remarks he attacked the stand taken by J. R. Murdoch of Heber City at the roundup last Thursday. He said that the Democrats had not hurt the sheep business and that he believed the business would be better off today if the tariff had been removed five years ago. He said he had offered to buy out some of the complaining sheep men but that they did not want to sell. He said that when they did offer to sell it was at a very high price, despite the calamity they foresaw. Anything I have got is for sale if I can get a good enough price, said Mr. Allen.

Future of Horses

C. Y. Cannon of the college animal husbandry staff opened the morning session with a talk on The Future of the Horse. He advised the farmers on the best kinds of animals to raise for the markets of the future and told what breeds were best adapted to Utah.

Dean W. L. Carlyle, acting president of the University of Idaho, also spoke on the horse raising business. He handled general questions of breeding, referring especially to draft horses.

The roundup closed Saturday afternoon with the judging of horses at the college stock judging pavilion.

Mrs. Olive Havens, Miss Gertrude McCheyne and Dr. P. R. Merrill of Wellsville, were the speakers at the closing meeting of the Housekeepers Conference last Saturday. Mrs. Havens who is president of the House Industries association talked on Beet versus Cane Sugar. In her discussion Mrs. Havens pointed out that beet sugar was superior to cane sugar in some ways and equal to it in others. She urged the housewives to patronize home industries.

Insanitary Habits of Children in Relation to Their Health, was the subject of a talk by Dr. Merrill. He advised mothers how to break their children of little habits that were dangerous.

Miss Gertrude McCheyne of the college extension division and lecturer on Home Economics, who has been in charge of the Housekeepers Conference talked on Home Economics Associations in Utah. Miss McCheyne told what had been accomplished by local associations in the state and how other associations could be organized.

WESTERN PACIFIC WILL SPEND $1,500,000 FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Salt Lake, Feb. 7.—Rapid progress in the development of the Western Pacific has been noted since E. L. Brown took charge of the road, less than a year ago. Improvements that were needed and the lack of which retarded progress from the advent of the road have been made. The changes for the better have been going on all along the line.

But the plans for this year are much in excess of all that has been done. An additional wharf will be constructed at Oakland this year at a cost of $1,000,000. About $250,000 will be spent in widening fills and cuts and in ballasting track. All the tunnels in the Feather River canyon will be lined with concrete during the year at an approximate cost of $240,000. About $180,000 will be spent in replacing wooden bridges with steel and concrete structures.

Among the improvements that have been made since Mr. Brown took charge is the completion of the nine mile loop between Arnold and Proctor in Nevada, which eliminates the only Salt Lake and San Francisco, first grade in excess of 1 per cent between was done at a cost of $525,000. New shops at Sacramento have been completed. Two new fuel oil stations have been established. The renewals have cost the company $175,000. These with other improvements in the last six months will total in the neighborhood of $1,500,000.

New traffic contracts have been made with the Petaluma & Santa Rosa railroad, the Central California Traction company, the Northern Electric railway, the Tidewater Southern railway, the Oakland, Antioch & Eastern and the Eureka Nevada railway. In addition new switch connections and agreements on interchange of traffic have been made with the Southern Pacific and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroads.

On London.

Tourist (in London).—"It certainly took a bunch of bobbies to arrest that silk-hatted guy! What did he do?" Cabby—"W'y, that bleedin' blitherer hadn't pinched 'E's a heminent statesman goin' to luncheon!"—Judge.

Advice.

"Take my advice—never ask questions. Be content to make a fool of yourself once or twice, but don't ask questions. Don't answer questions, either. That's worse than asking. But, after all, now I'm giving advice, and worst of anything is listening to other people's advice."—From "Blunder Street," by Compton Mackenzie.

Good Easily.

It has been pointed out that "potato" owed exist consistently with valrus attached to letters in other words, he spelled gheaphthrightough. Here is the unraveling: gh in "hicough," tau in "bean," phth in "phthisis," eigh in "weight," tte in "gazette," and ough in "though." The seed of a new form of spelling has been sown.—The Pioneer.

Huerta Replies He Is increasing Army

Madrid, Feb. 7.—Provisional President Huerta today telegraphed to the Spanish American union here replying to its request that he bring about an armistice in Mexico in order to arrange a compromise with the revolutionists by the statement that he is increasing the federal army with the object of pushing forward his campaign against the rebels.

General Huerta at the same time invited the newspapers of Madrid to send correspondents to Mexico to observe the situation.

NOT SATISFIED WITH FINANCIAL RETURNS

Conference of Governors of the Arid States On Reclamation Planned By Lane

Washington, Feb. 7.—A conference of governors of arid states for a general discussion of reclamation problems probably will be held in the near future. Secretary Lane of the interior department today wrote to the governors of 11 western states asking them for suggestions as to where and when such a conference should be held. The secretary referred in his letters particularly to projects which have been entirely in private hands. Commenting on the apparently unsatisfactory financial returns from most of these projects he said:

It appears therefore, that no further large development can now be expected unless it is by the use of public funds, state or national, on serve the situation.

The Spanish press commented freely on the Mexican situation today. Several of the leading newspapers of the capital accuse the United States government of fomenting anarchy.

El Diario Universal, the organ of Count Romanones, a former premier, affirms that if the revolutionists in Mexico are supplied with arms from the United States the government at Washington is bound to impose respect for the lives and property of foreigners in Mexico.

which no profit or interest is required, or by the use of funds procured by taxation.

SOME NICE SANDWICHES

Celery Sandwiches

Mix one cup of finely chopped celery, one fourth cup of chopped nuts and one fourth cup of chopped olives (if liked), moisten with salad dressing and spread on thin slices of brown bread.

Sardine Sandwiches

Mash the yolks of three hard boiled eggs till light and smooth; beat into them two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, quarter teaspoonful of salt (scant) and a pinch of cayenne pepper. Take a box of boneless sardines, drain off the oil, clean off the skins and tails, put them to a bowl and pound and rub them to a paste then add the egg mixture to them and mix all smooth. This makes a delicious filling.
